Upcoming Photography Workshops

Fall 2009

We're rethinking the way we do photography workshops and we're doing so with you in mind. While in the past we focused on multiple class workshops that required a weekly time commitment both by you and the instructor, we're now reorganizing the workshops to fit your busy lifestyle...and budget. Most workshops are now designed as a one time 3 hour class for the remarkable price of only $75. These newly designed workshops will feature some of the top photographers and workshop instructors in the area and will teach each participant new techniques to help develop their photographic skills.
